Foreword

In 1952, 143 participants from 32 countries gathered in Bussum, Holland, to form what is now called the International Council for Education of the Visually Handicapped. Conferences held every five years thereafter in Oslo, Hanover, Watertown (U. S. A.) and Madrid attracted an increasing number of administrators of schools, teachers, psychologists, university professors, researchers and others serving blind and partially seeing children. At Madrid in 1972 there were 485 participants from 59 countries. It was time to develop international activities to take place between quinquennial conferences.

The following list is one of the means of international sharing. Nearly two thousand questionnaires in English and French were sent out, and the high percentage of returns indicates both recognition of ICEVH as an international organization and the need for such a list. For some schools we have only names and addresses, for others a little descriptive information. The Code on page 5 explains the meaning of the small letters under the addresses of most of the schools.

We asked for very basic information such as who supported the school, whether it was a school for boys or girls or both, whether the pupils read braille or print or both, how many multiply handicapped children there were, and how many years of schooling were available at that particular school. Many other questions might have been asked, but our wish was only to know what general type of school it was.

Much time is needed to gather international information. It took 18 months to obtain what we have printed here. This means, of course, that some of the information will not be 100% accurate for statistics and even addresses can chance in that amount of time. We know, for example, that what we have printed about Iceland, Luxembourg, Gambia and Rhodesia will be changed within the next year. Still, we are sharing what was possible to obtain as of our publication date. Hopefully the next edition will be more accurate.

There is always a problem of translation. Even when our readers understood the English or French in the questionnaires, they did not always place the same interpretation upon common words. We hope our interpretation of their replies is fairly close.

We used the age limit of 23 in defining "children" because UNESCO considers 23 as the dividing line with regard to international service programs or research. Our term visually handicapped means any degree of visual loss, from partial to total, which requires special education services.

As far as we know, the schools on this list are for only blind and/or partially seeing children. In some cases the entire population is multiply handicapped, such as at Condover Hall School in England and Ekeskolan in Sweden. However, we did not include schools which are mainly for physically or mentally handicapped children even though we know the proportion of children with vision handicaps in such schools is always high, unless only one school served all the handicapped children of any type in a country such as in Belize.

There is a separate list beginning on page 39 of schools (whatever their nature) which serve deaf-blind children, either as their main responsibility or as just one of their responsibilities.

Several countries offered information on preschool services even though we had not requested this. When it was given, we included it. It should be understood that much exists which is not on this list, particulary since we made no attempt to gather data about that age group.

Intergrated education, in which blind and partially seeing children are enrolled in classes with sighted children in ordinary schools while receiving some special assistance on the side, is increasing worldwide. Such programs develop somewhere almost daily. We have listed only one address per country where accurate, up-to-date information may be secured with the exception of Brazil, Canada and the United States where the integrated programs are numerous. For Canada we have suggested one could write to an address in each province, and for Brazil and the United States and address in each state.

In a few countries there are completely self-contained units of blind or partially seeing children located in some schools for sighted children. Since there is no planned integration with the sighted for study or recreation, we have listed these units under special schools. We have not considered them forms of integrated education.

You will see that we chose to alphabetize schools according to:

a) the region of the world,
b) the country,
c) the city (with the exception of the United States where the schools are alphabetized by state and Canada where they are alphabetized by province).

Many countries are missing from our list. This we regret very much. Despite repeated requests we were not able to get names and addresses of schools.

We hope that this list will serve many purposes, and in order that its value should increase we ask that corrections and additions should be sent to the address below.

Preface

En 1952, 143 participants venus de 32 pays se sont réunis à Bussum, en Hollande, pour former ce que l'on apelle maintenant le Conseil International pour l'Education des Handicapés de la Vue. Les conférences qui ont eu lieu ensuite tous les cinq ans à Oslo, Hanovre, Watertown (Etats-Unis) et à Madrid, ont attiré un nombre croissant de directeurs d'écoles, d'enseignants, de psychologues, de professeurs d'université, de chercheurs etc. au service des enfants aveugles et déficients visuels. En 1972 à Madrid il y avait 485 participants venus de 59 pays. On décida alors de promouvoir des activités internationales entre les conférences quinquennales.

La liste d'écoles qui suit est une manifestation de cette volonté de communication entre les pays. Nous avons envoyé environ 2000 questionnaires en anglais et en francais, et le pourcentage élévé de réponses indique que le CIEHV est bien reconnu comme une organisation internationale et démontre le besoin d'une telle liste. Pour certaines écoles nous n'avons que leur nom et leur adresse, mais pour lestautres nous avons certains renseignements. Le Code, page 9, explique la signification des lettres situées sous les adresses de la plupart des écoles.

Nous avons demandé des renseignements fondamentaux, tels que: qui finance l'école? Est-ce une école pour garçons ou pour filles, ou pour les deux? Les élèves lisent-ils le braille ou l'écriture en noir, ou les deux? Combien y a-t-il d'enfants surhandicapés? Combien d'années d'enseignement sont prévues dans l'école? Nour aurions pu poser bien d'autres questions, mais nous désirions avant tout avoir une idée générale sur chaque école.

Il faut beaucoup de temps pour rassembler des informations internationales. Il nous a fallu 18 mois pour obtenier les renseignements que nous vous donnons ici. Certaines informations ne seront pas exactes à 100% et les adresses pourront avoir changé pendant ce temps. Nous savons, par exemple, que les renseignements que nous donnons sur l'Islande, le Luxembourg, la Gambie et la Rhodésie auront changé d'ici l'année prochaine. Cependant, nour vous communiquons ce qu'il a été possible d'obtenir jusqu'au moment de la publication. Nous espérons que la prochaine édition sera plus exacte.

Il existe toujours un problème de traduction. Même si nos lecteurs comprenaient l'anglais ou le français sur les questionnaires, ils n'ont pas toujours donné la même interprétation aux mêmes mots. Nous espérons que nous avons interprété au mieux leurs réponses.

Nous avons adopté pour âge-limite de l'adolescence l'âge de 23 ans, qui est la définition même de l'UNESCO. Le terme "handicapé visuel" recouvre toute perte de vision, partielle ou totale, qui nécessite un éducation spéciale.

Les écoles de cette liste sont destinées seulement aux enfants aveugles ou déficients visuels. Dans certains cas, la totalité des élèves est surhandicapée, comme à Condover Hall en Angleterre et à Ekeskolan en Suède. Cependant, nous n'avons pas inclus les écoles destinées principalement au enfants handicapés physiques ou mentaux, bien que nous sachions qu'un grand nombre de ces enfants soit aussi des handicapés visuels (il faut faire exception de l'école de Belize où une seule école reçoit tous les enfants handicapés, quel que soit leur handicap).

Il y a une liste séparée commençant à la page 39 pour les écoles dont la principale responsabilité ou l'une des responsabilités est de s'occuper des sourds-aveugles.

Plusieurs pays ont donné des renseignements sur leurs services pré-scolaires, bien que nous ne les ayons pas demandés. Nous les avons inclus.

L'éducation intégrée, selon laquelle les enfants aveugles et déficients visuels sont en classe avec les enfants voyants dans les écoles ordinaires, tout en recevant une assistance spéciale, devient de plus en plus généralisée dans le monde entier. Pour les programmes d'éducation intégrée, nous avons indiqué une seule adresse par pays, où l'on peut obtenir une information exacte et à jour, sauf pour le Brésil, le Canada et les Etats-Unis où les programmes d'intégration sont nombreux. Pour le Canada, nous avons indiqué que l'on pouvait écrire à une adresse dans chaque province, et pour le Brésil et les Etats-Unis, une adresse dans chaque état.

Dans certains pays il existe des sections complètes pour enfants aveugles ou déficients visuels dans des écoles pour enfants voyants. Comme il n'y a pas d'intégration organisée avec les voyants pour les études ou les distractions, nous avons considéré ces sections comme les écoles spéciales, et non comme des formes d'éducation intégrée.

Nous avons choisi de classer alphabétiquement les écoles par:
a) région du monde,
b) par pays,
c) par ville (sauf pour les Etats-Unis où les écoles sont classées par état et le Canada où elles sont classées par province).

De nombreux pays manquent sur notre liste et nous le regrettens beaucoup. Malgré des demandes répétées, nous n'avons pu obtenir les noms et adresses des écoles.
